Additional Authorized Contractor Weatherization Measures

Based on program requirements, some homes may qualify for additional work that can only be preformed by specialized authorized contractors. Rebates are available for duct sealing and insulation on qualified homes with work being preformed as outlined in the posted duct sealing and insulation specification. In 2012 rebates are also available for whole house air sealing if work is preformed by authorized contractors using outlined specifications and program requirements. All work must be done by authorized contractors in accordance with the posted specifications and rebates are only available for units that have not previously qualified for the same rebate.
